The Banque de France manages the website <https://blocnotesdeleco.banque-france.fr/en/blog-concours>, the purpose of which is to participate in the Eco-Notepad Competition and to send news and invitations to events, for which we require the consent of authors. The Banque de France complies with all legal and regulatory provisions: Law No. 78-17 of 6 January 1978 as amended with respect to information technology, files and freedoms, as well as the General Regulations on Data Protection (EU Regulation 2016/679 of 27 April 2016).

The information requested on this site is exclusively reserved for the computerised processing of the Eco-Notebook Competition and is intended for the administration of the Banque de France. In this context, it collects personal data (surname, first name, e-mail address, telephone number, university or school, diploma undertaken). These data are kept for 3 years.

Only the recipients of the data (department in charge of processing, internal control and audit departments) have access to information about you.

You have the right to access, rectify, erase, oppose the processing and portability of personal data, as well as the right to withdraw your consent, which you may exercise by contacting the Banque de France. Withdrawal of consent deprives you of the right to participate in the competition and to win the prizes.
