Statistics

Quality of the Centralised Securities Database and the Securities Holdings Statistics dataset

On 22 December 2020 the Governing Council took note of a review of the quality of the Centralised Securities Database (CSDB) and the Securities Holdings Statistics (SHS) dataset. The CSDB system continued to operate smoothly in 2019, with its data coverage and quality being considered appropriate. Work is ongoing with a view to maintaining and further enhancing the quality of the database, seeking to ensure compliance with all current and future requirements. The SHS dataset covers the holdings of all financial and non-financial investors in euro area countries (plus some participating non-euro area countries), broken down by investor country and sector. Thanks to the excellent cooperation between national central banks and the SHS team, it has been possible, since the first quarter of 2020, to disseminate preliminary data more than one month in advance of the regular schedule. The earlier availability of those data within the ESCB has supported users in their decision-making and their monitoring of fast-moving financial markets. Among other developments, significant progress has also been made in the collection of SHS data on the holdings of individual banking groups. The dataset is highly granular, with data even being available at the level of individual members of banking groups (investors) and individual securities (holdings). Among other things, this contributes to the effective identification of risks and spillovers in financial markets.

Banking supervision

ECB Recommendation on dividend distributions during the COVID-19 pandemic and accompanying letter to banks on remuneration policies

On 15 December 2020 the Governing Council did not object to a proposal by the Supervisory Board to adopt Recommendation ECB/2020/62 on dividend distributions during the COVID-19 pandemic and to approve the accompanying letter to banks on their remuneration policies. The new legal act (repealing Recommendation ECB/2020/35) and the accompanying letter are available on the ECB's banking supervision website.

Compliance with EBA guidelines on the treatment of structural foreign exchange positions

On 18 December 2020 the Governing Council did not object to the Supervisory Board's proposal to notify the European Banking Authority (EBA) that, for the significant institutions under its direct supervision, the ECB would comply with the EBA's guidelines on the treatment of the structural foreign exchange positions under Article 352(2) of Regulation (EU) No 575/2013 (EBA GL/2020/09) as of 1 January 2022 (the date on which they enter into force). Those guidelines introduce criteria aimed at harmonising competent authorities' interpretation and application of the waiver that allows structural foreign exchange positions to be excluded from the calculation of own funds requirements.

Guide setting out the ECB's supervisory approach to consolidation in the banking sector

On 6 January 2021 the Governing Council did not object to the Supervisory Board's proposal to publish a guide setting out the ECB's supervisory approach to consolidation in the banking sector following a recent public consultation. The ECB hopes that this guide will clarify the principles that are applied under its prudential supervisory approach when determining whether the arrangements that a credit institution implements as a result of consolidation ensure the sound management and coverage of risks. In addition to the guide itself, the ECB has also published a feedback statement providing an overall assessment of the comments received in the public consultation. Both documents are available on the ECB's banking supervision website.
